Charge Preferred Against Prominent Utica Men.Postmaster at Vanatta Swears to the Affidavit.Constable Given Warrants Saturday to Serve—
S. D. Lyon Says Lock on His Store Was Broken Early Wednesday Morning.

St. Louisville, Dec. 5.—S. D. Lyon, postmaster and proprietor of a general store at Vanatta, Licking county, appeared before Squire Dush at this place this morning, and filed an affidavit against nine of the most prominent men in Utica, charging a most serious offense.

The defendants in the action are Ed M. Bell, ex-postmaster at Utica, Fred S. Sperry, the banker and one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens of that village; Will Wright, who has charge of the furniture department at the big store of Officer & Wright; Philip Higgins, the local agent at Utica of the Logan gas company; F. Hulshizer, of the Hulshizer mills; Ray Thatcher, a tool dresser; Lewis Ogden, a rig builder; Charles Bricker and Cliff Dillon.

The affidavit charges the nine men with breaking open a lock in the night season, on or about December 2.

Mr. Lyons said when asked by the Advocate, that he did not charge larceny in the affidavit, nor would he say today, whether or not he missed any goods. As a matter of fact, however, he reported the burglary to the Newark police, and at that time said there had been a quantity of tobacco and cigars stolen.

The warrants were served on the defendants this morning by Constable Moxley, who went to Utica for that purpose.

Utica, O., Dec. 5.—Constable Moxley, of St. Louisville, came here this morning and served warrants upon Ed M. Bell, Will Wright, Fred Sperry and Charles Bricker, charging them with breaking a lock on the postoffice and general store at Vanatta. It is understood that there are warrants for five others that will be served this afternoon.

The four men arrested started to drive to St. Louisville as soon as the warrants had been served. One of them said that the breaking of the lock was not done with any burglarious intent, but in a spirit of boisterous fun. They make no denial of the fact that the lock was broken, but say that Hulshizer, Wright and Ogden never left the big wagon in which the party was riding, while the others did.

It is understood that the party of nine attended the ceremonies incident to the initiation in the D. O. K. K. at Newark. They drove to Newark and returned in a big wagon and their offense was committed at Vanatta, en route to Utica.

It is said the party was having a good time and at frequent intervals some of the men would be in and out of the wagon, and if the thing was done at all it was done at one of these times.

St. Louisville, O., Dec. 5.—Up to 3 p. m. Saturday only two of the men had appeared in court at St. Louisville and each was immediately released on $100 bond for his appearance in court next week.

LEE STORES BURN.

Loss of Half Million, Protected by Only $250,000
Insurance—H. D. Lee Mercantile Company
Suffers a Heavy Loss in Kansas.

An Associated Press dispatch from Salina, Kansas, tells of a great misfortune that has come to former residents of this city. The Lees, who a few years ago lived on North Fourth street, Newark. The H. D. Lee mercantile company has sustained a loss of a half million dollars by fire, with insurance of a quarter of a million. Charles A. Lee, son of William D. Lee, is financially interested in his uncle's store, which was the largest wholesale grocery in Kansas.

The following dispatch from Salina tells of the fire:

"Salina, Kan., Dec. 5.—Fire that started here at noon Friday and which threatened the entire business district, destroyed the four-story building occupied by the H. D. Lee Wholesale Grocery company, damaged the building and contents of the H. D. Lee Hardware company and burned several smaller buildings, causing an aggregate loss estimated at $500,000; insurance about $250,000. The loss sustained by the hardware company is placed at $35,000 and that on the grocery company at approximately $435,000. Both companies are a part of the H. D. Lee Mercantile company, whose president, H. D. Lee, came to Kansas from Ohio."

The buildings occupied by the Lee Mercantile company were supposed to be practically fireproof. When a Newark resident visited Salina recently Mr. Lee took him through the big establishment and referred especially to the protection against fire. The heating and power plant was located in a separate building and no fire was allowed in any part of the main structure. How the fire started is not as yet known in Newark.

The Advocate Saturday morning telegraphed to Charles A. Lee at Salina, Kan., and received the following reply at 3 p. m.: "The Advocate's expression of sympathy is appreciated. The H. D. Lee grocery was entirely destroyed, with a loss of a half million dollars. The main building of the hardware department was saved, but the warehouse was destroyed. The loss in the hardware department is $35,000. All fully insured. The grocery and hardware stores will be rebuilt immediately and the store will be larger and better than before the fire. The company expects to be able to resume business in ten days."

Washington, Dec. 5.—General Rafael Reyes, special envoy from Colombia, accompanied by Dr. Herran, Colombian charge d'affaires, was received by President Roosevelt this morning at 10 o'clock in the blue parlor of the White House. Before arranging for the meeting Secretary Hay satisfied himself that Reyes was clothed with plenipotentiary powers by the Colombian government. It is generally admitted that insular as General Reyes' mission concerns the question of the Panama canal it will be fruitless. It is held by the administration that Colombia has absolutely no jurisdiction now over the isthmus.

ANN'S AGE

Figured Out by This Teacher, but Directors Couldn't See It—May Be Dismissed

Hiawatha, Kan., Dec. 5.—R. M. Oliver, a district school teacher in the eastern part of the county, has appealed to the county superintendent to save him from dismissal which he is threatened. Oliver solved the problem of "Ann's Age" for the school, figuring it out, both by arithmetic and by algebra, that she is 18.

One of the pupils, whose father is a director, sprung the problem at home. The director figured on it, and decided that Ann is only 12, and that a person who could arrive at any other result was not fit to teach children. He took the matter up with the other directors, who agreed that Ann was 12. The teacher stuck to his solution, whereupon the directors declared him ignorant, incompetent and pig-headed, and threatened him with dismissal when his month is up.

TWENTY OTHERS WERE INJURED.

Edward Wolf of Junction City and Roy Creglow of Lancaster Were Severely Bruised.

Zanesville, O., Dec. 5.—Misinterpretation of crossing signals was responsible for a disastrous wreck at Crooksville last night. A Cincinnati and Muskingum Valley passenger train and a Zanesville and Western freight train approached the crossing at the same moment. The target man with a hand lantern signalled the passenger train for right of way and the freight engineer thought the signal was intended for him. The freight train struck the last coach of the passenger train, wrecking it. Michael Gordon, 19, of Junction City, was instantly killed. The injured are: Edward Wolf, Junction City, both legs and arms broken; D. Bartley, Lancaster, internally injured; Roy Creglow, Lancaster, severely bruised. ## SUICIDE

OF BANK CASHIER WOODS AT COLFAX, IOWA.

Recalls His Romantic Marriage to His
First Wife's Nurse in Chicago.
He Shot Himself.

Colfax, Iowa, Dec. 5.—George D. Woods, cashier of one and director of five other Iowa banks, hero of a romantic marriage in Chicago to the nurse who cared for his first wife during her fatal illness in Denver, shot and killed himself after having called two of his most trusted friends to his home for a conference. Within a few hours after his death, the bank of Colfax, of which he was cashier, and the State bank at Baxter, of which he was a director, were closed temporarily. It is believed these institutions, as well as the others at Mitchellville, Ira, Mirgo and State Center, are in a sound condition.

Mr. Woods summoned John Mains and R. A. Pennington to a conference at his home. He joked with his visitors and then referred to his illness, saying he suffered from torturing pains at the base of the brain. As his friends rose to depart Mr. Woods told another joke, laughed and then asked them to wait a minute. Mr. Woods then went into the bathroom. A moment later the shot that ended his life was heard, the bullet having been fired into his forehead.

Mrs. Woods' maiden name was Elizabeth Burdett. She was a nurse in a Denver hospital when the first Mrs. Woods went there as a patient. She took care of the patient until her death three years ago. A year ago Mr. Woods won Miss Burdett's love and proposed marriage. He was accepted and the marriage took place in the Auditorium in Chicago. A special train was engaged to convey the Iowa guests to and from the bridal city.

Harvard Teacher Gives a Few Samples in His Address Before Teachers' Institute.

New York, Dec. 5.—Frederick Manley, of Harvard university, addressed the annual session of the Essex county, N. J., Teachers' institute yesterday on "Slang." In the course of his address he urged his hearers to get wise to the fact that there were times when slang was the goods—the real thing.

"For example," said Mr. Manley, "the 'marble heart' and the 'glad hand' are expressions which, had they been used in the Bible, would now be referred to by professors of literature as simple and beautiful. I remember a small boy at a prosy lecture who exclaimed: 'Gee! If I don't get out of here, I'll have bats in me belly.' What could be more severely critical and definite?"

"I remember hearing a boy enthusiastically describe a girl as a 'peach with dew on it.' She was a lovely creature, with the bloom of May on her cheeks. Was not the boy's description of her beautiful?"

SWINDLERS

Who Obtained Million Dollars by Fraud.Two Sent to the Pen While Six
Got Off With Fines.The Federal Authorities at Columbus Wind Up
Prosecution of Cases—Miller & Struble Implicated in the Big Swindling Deals.

Columbus, O., Dec. 5.—Four men pleading guilty and four men convicted in the United States court yesterday writes volumes of history, if carried to its ramifications, in one of the most notorious land swindles that has come to the attention of the United States postal department.

Excepting only the investigation of its own officers and employees in the postoffice department at Washington, the breaking up of the extensive gang that has swindled hundreds of American citizens out of fully a million dollars, has been the largest case that has ever demanded the attention of the postoffice department.

The swindlers have been operating for years, and only after nearly a year of tireless work have the postoffice inspectors seen most of the prime movers in the stupendous undertaking brought to justice.

Before Judge Thompson, in the United States court, the case of the government against Wilbert E. McAlpine and Louis C. Cobb, of Whittemore, Iowa, John E. Cobb, of Bainbridge, O., and Leroy R. Jeffers, of Huntsville, Tenn., has been on trial for several days. The men were indicted for conspiring to defraud.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty. Cobb and McAlpine were sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary and Borle and Jeffers were sentenced to serve one day in the Franklin county jail and pay a fine of $300 each. The costs were assessed against each of the defendants, and inasmuch as 30 witnesses were summoned from all parts of the United States the defendants will have a pretty penny to pay in this connection.

As telegraphed The Advocate Friday, following the conviction of the quartet named above, W. H. H. Miller and S. E. Struble, of Newark, O.; New Michels, of Benton Harbor, Mich.; and T. S. Wells, of Bainbridge, O., entered pleas of guilty and were fined $500 and costs each. G. W. J. Woltz, of Newark, was indicted in the same cases and is now a fugitive from justice. In addition to the eight named above five other persons have been convicted of conspiracy in practically the same cases and five additional are under indictment or will be within a few days. In all 18 men have been run down by the postoffice inspectors.

When Abraham L. Whyman, of Cincinnati, was convicted of fraud in the United States court at Cincinnati and sentenced to six months in jail, the fraudulent transactions of this bunch of schemers consisted in selling over and over again title to lands in Scott county, Tennessee, known as the George F. Saunders grant. Saunders was a fictitious personage and was born in the brain of a Cincinnati real estate dealer, who secured title claim grants from Tennessee officials to 45,000 acres of timber lands.

These cut claim deeds were valueless, for the reason that good titles to the land in question reposed in persons who in some instances had been in possession of the property for 70 years. Nevertheless, the men convicted in conspiracy sold and resold the tracts until more than 300,000 acres have ostensibly changed hands.

The victims include the usual large percentage of unsophisticated widows and orphans, besides some of the shrewdest lawyers, bankers, business men and even real estate dealers throughout the country. In some instances, unsuspecting families have been robbed of small fortunes and left penniless.

John A. Cobb, of Bainbridge, O., and Wilbert E. McAlpine, of Whittemore, Iowa, are known to the postoffice inspectors as the leaders in the so-called Cobb-McAlpine gang, and W. H. H. Miller, S. E. Struble and G. W. J. Woltz, of Newark, O., have earned the title of the chief actors in the Miller-Struble conspiracy. While the vast sums of money acted independently of each other they sold the same lands in a way that cleared them of fraud.

The matter was first brought to the attention of the postoffice department in January of this year when M. S. Cohen, of Pine Bluff, Ark., complained that he had lost $200 through the dealings of McAlpine of Whittemore, Iowa. George A. Price, inspector in charge at St. Louis, was advised of the charge and inspectors C. E. Stewart, of Iowa City, Iowa, and C. P. Craig, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, were assigned to the case. They were assisted subsequently by M. G. Price and E. L. Leland, of St. Louis, and W. E. Greenaway, of Chattanooga. W. L. Reid, of the St. Louis division, was also placed on the case, and eventually the work was followed to the finish by Price, Greenaway and Reid. These three inspectors traveled throughout 15 states and interviewed hundreds of persons before the information secured was presented to the grand juries.

The evidence introduced at the trial and the records of the postoffice inspectors show that Wilbert E. McAlpine, of Whittemore, Iowa, formerly a minister and later announcer for a circus, advertised throughout the country that he had valuable Tennessee timber lands for sale. With him at Whittemore was Louis C. Cobb, son of George E. Cobb, banker, who sent mimeograph letters to would-be purchasers desiring the lands and referring them to John E. Cobb at Bainbridge, O. Cobb would then send the victims glowing descriptions of the lands and in return refer the inquirer to Jeffers & Jeffers, lawyers and abstracters, Huntsville, Scott county, Tenn.

It was charged that Cobb would prepare the fraudulent deeds, and working in conjunction with him was Abraham L. Whyman, of Cincinnati, who procured notarial certificates. T. S. Wells, of Bainbridge, O., performed like service for Cobb and for the Miller-Struble combination. In a nutshell, McAlpine and Cobb, in Whittemore, Iowa, sold the property, Cobb prepared the deeds and certificates, and L. J. Jeffers acted as legal adviser and abstractor.

New Michels, of Benton Harbor, Mich., was in a like conspiracy with John Diebel, formerly postmaster at Tolleston, Ind., and Lemuel R. Day, prominent politician and ex-postmaster of Royal Center, Ind. Diebel and Day entered pleas of guilty in Indianapolis last week. They have not been sentenced because northwestern Ohio persons under indictment, but not yet arrested, are concerned in the same case. These suppressed indictments were returned at Toledo.

The work of inspectors Greenaway, Reid and Price also resulted in the arrest of Joseph P. Ward, at Central City, Colo., on a charge of conspiring with the Miller-Struble combination of Newark, O. Ward was brought to the jail in this city, was given an insanity hearing and is now in the federal insane asylum at Washington. He was charged with manufacturing deeds, as did Woltz, for Miller and Struble.

C. Wilson Cowell, of Rising Sun, Ind., later of Cincinnati, was arrested at Jellico, Tenn., for adding fraud to the Cobb-McAlpine frauds. For a consideration anywhere from $25 to $100 he offered his services to the Cobb-McAlpine victims as a perfecter of titles. He was convicted. Henry A. Bradford, a real estate man of St. Louis, is under indictment for conspiracy in the same deals.

John A. Cobb, whose friends now say that he is not responsible mentally, assumed the aliases of George B. Sanders and Mary A. Wesley. Miller and Struble, of Newark, had as aliases the National Realty company, the Newark Drug and Remedy company and the Globe Real Estate company.

New Michels, at Benton Harbor, Mich., was known as the Michigan Investment syndicate. Michels formerly lived at South Bend, Ind., and his father, William W. Michels, is now an attorney there.

The inspectors point out that the fraud would not have been possible had it not been for the lax laws of Tennessee and the tax administration of county officers, for county officers who knew of the deception did not tip it off to the victims for the reason that the officers profited by fees of filing the several deeds and documents.

DOCTOR

COMES FROM COLUMBUS TO SEE HARRY J. HOOVER.

Copy of the indictment received by Harry Scott's attorneys—Court adjourned till Monday.

There are no new developments in the Hoover case since Friday evening, when a Columbus physician came over and made an examination of H. J. Hoover, to ascertain his physical condition.

The physician is under orders from Judge A. C. Thompson and, of course, would divulge nothing as to his findings, but will testify in court Monday, and on this testimony will be determined whether or not Hoover will be taken to Columbus or the case continued.

The Scott case remains in statu quo and the court will not be in session until next Monday.

An official copy of the indictment that was found against Harry J. Hoover and Harry P. Scott by the United States grand jury has been received in Newark by Scott's attorneys, Judge S. M. Hunter and Charles W. Miller. The number of the case is 430 and is styled The United States vs. Harry J. Hoover and Harry P. Scott. The indictment is signed by Sherman T. McPherson, United States district attorney, and attested by H. W. Benson, foreman of the grand jury.

The indictment is necessarily a voluminous document, covering fifteen typewritten pages of legal cap paper. It contains three counts, each count charging a conspiracy between Hoover and Scott to commit an offense against the United States by violating section 2209 of the United States Revised Statutes. The first count charges that said conspiracy was in substance as follows: Prior to June 1, 1902, Hoover was assistant cashier of the People's National bank, and as such officer had theretofore unlawfully taken from the funds of said bank a sum of money in excess of $30,000; upon June 1, 1902, he ceased to be an officer of the bank, and after this he purchased or caused to be purchased a large number of certificates of deposit.

That for the purpose of concealing the fact that he had unlawfully taken the money, he and Harry P. Scott conspired and agreed that Scott, who was an officer in the People's bank, was to permit and assist Hoover in entering the bank after business hours, and after the other officers had left the bank, for the purpose of making false entries on the certificate of deposit register, by marking in the column of certain dates, which would show that said certificates were paid on the date so placed in the column. That on July 1, 1902, Scott, after business hours, permitted Hoover to enter the bank, and while he was present Hoover made the false entries, Scott having a full knowledge of his intentions. That these false entries were made with the intent to injure and defraud the banking association.

The second count is exactly like the first except the last clause, which charges the intent of the conspiracy to have been to deceive the officers of the banking association.

The third count recites the same facts and charges that the intent was to deceive any agent appointed to examine the affairs of the bank.

This is the only indictment found against Scott, and in this Hoover is jointly charged with conspiracy to defraud. Scott is in no way charged with misappropriation of funds, or of taking any money, or receiving any money dishonestly. This indictment as far as Hoover is concerned is entirely separate from the 37 other counts which the grand jury found against him.

Frank Showman, the grocer, who was seriously ill, is convalescing and is at the store today.

Mrs. Asa Jordan, of Thornville, is the guest of Mrs. Frank Kern, on Chestnut street.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

makes pale, thin children fat and chubby. Overcomes wasting tendencies and brings back rosy cheeks and bright eyes.

It's surprising how quickly children respond to Scott's Emulsion. It contains just the element of nourishment their little bodies need. They thrive on it.

Even a few drops in the baby's bottle have a noticeable effect for good. Nothing better than Scott's Emulsion for growing children.

Why do substitutes for Scott's Emulsion cost less? Because they're worth less.

With one you wait in vain for the benefits you had looked for. In Scott's Emulsion you get them. It never disappoints. That's worth the few cents difference in cost.

We'll send you a sample free upon request. SCOTT & BOWNE, 49 Pearl Street, New York.

By the President of the United States of America: Suffer the brig Morning Star of Baltimore, Daniel C. Linn, master or commander, of the burthen of 166 tons or thereabouts, mounted with no guns, navigated with nine men, to pass with her company of passengers, goods and merchandise without any hindrance, seizure or molestation, the said brig appearing by good testimony to belong to one or more of the citizens of the United States and to him or them only.

A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be ward off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children, for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. For sale by all druggists.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY

Take Advantage of Half Price Offer Made by F. D. Hall.

In these times when living expenses have increased from thirty to fifty per cent, it is unusual to hear of a standard remedy being offered at half price.

Yet that is the way Mr. Hall, the popular druggist, is selling Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of dyspepsia and constipation. In addition to selling a fifty cent bottle, containing a month's treatment of sixty doses, for 25 cents, he gives his personal guarantee with every bottle he sells to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

This unusual offer has brought hundreds of customers to his store in the last few weeks, yet out of the many bottles of Dr. Howard's specific he has sold, but one customer asked to have the money returned. This was done without any questions, although Mr. Hall does not think the remedy could have been given a fair trial.

Doctor's bills can be saved by the use of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of dyspepsia and constipation, and by taking advantage of this special half price introductory offer, our readers can save half the regular price of the specific.

Do not let this opportunity pass to obtain a standard fifty cent remedy at half price. Remember that Druggist Hall will refund your money if Dr. Howard's specific does not cure. 1-5-9

Leave your orders for your Christmas trees and holly wreaths. Mrs. J. L. Miller, Florist.

Big Gas Combine.

Manborg expects to enlist enough of the independent and co-operative plants to be able to compete with the companies which have heretofore been ruling the market. The production of the factories of the proposed organization will be sold from this city.

And Now Awaits Action of the Federal Courts—Bankruptcy Proceedings Have Commenced.

The United Sheet and Tin Plate company, formerly the Tucker Manufacturing company of this city, was taken possession of by Sheriff W. H. Anderson, Jr., Thursday evening on attachment in favor of James L. Shawyer, issued by the Guernsey county Common Pleas court, for $500; also on an execution from the Washington Common Pleas court in favor of Eugene Riley and others for $9904. The property was afterwards attached by John Tucker in the Common Pleas court of Licking county for $789, and also by Howard Finley in the Licking county Common Pleas court for $689. All the property is now in the hands of the federal courts in bankruptcy proceedings, a petition having been filed Friday night by Judge Page, representing a creditor of Guernsey county. Sheriff Anderson is still holding the property awaiting the action of the federal courts. The company manufactured spouting and roofing principally.
